FOREVER YOUNG CHIROPRACTIC

DOCTOR/PATIENT RELATIONSHIP IN CHIROPRACTIC

* INFORMED CONSENT FORM *

Chiropractic health care seeks to restore health through natural means without the use of medicine or surgery. This gives the body maximum opportunity to utilize its inherent recuperative powers. The success of the chiropractic doctor's procedures often depends on environment, underlying causes, physical, and spinal conditions. It is important to understand what to expect from chiropractic health care services.

A Doctor of Chiropractic conducts a clinical analysis for the express purpose of determining whether there is evidence of Vertebral Subluxation Complexes (VSC). When VSC complexes are found, chiropractic adjustments and ancillary procedures may be given in an attempt to restore spinal integrity. It is the chiropractic premise that spinal alignment allows nerve transmission throughout the body and gives the body an opportunity to use its inherent recuperative powers.

A patient, in coming to the chiropractor, gives the doctor permission and authority to care for the patient in accordance with chiropractic tests, diagnoses, and analyses. The chiropractic adjustment or other clinical procedures are usually beneficial, and seldom cause any problem. In rare cases, underlying physical defects, deformities or pathologies may render the patient susceptible to injury. The doctor, of course, will not give a chiropractic adjustment or health care if he/she is aware that such care may be contra-indicated. It is the responsibility of the patient to make it known, or to learn through health care procedures, whatever he/she is suffering from: latent pathological defects, illnesses, or deformities which would otherwise not come to the attention of the chiropractor. The chiropractor provides a specialized, non-duplicating health service. The chiropractor is licensed in a special practice and is available to work with other types of providers in your health care regime.

At Forever Young Chiropractic, we use a combination of different treatment procedures. We will use our hands, our adjusting table, and/or our activator device to deliver safe and gently adjustments. This may cause an audible "pop" or "click," much as you experience when you crack your knuckles. You may or may not experience or feel a sense of movement in the joint being adjusted.

Conditions may respond differently to the same chiropractic care. Many medical failures find quick relief through chiropractic. In turn, we must admit that conditions that do not respond to chiropractic care may come under the control, or be helped through, medical science. The fact is that the science of chiropractic and medicine may never be so exact as to provide definite answers to all problems. Both make great strides in alleviating pain and controlling disease.

With any health care procedure there are certain complications that may arise, and we strive to inform you of such risks. High force, extreme rotation adjustments of the neck have been associated with injuries to the arteries in the neck leading to or contributing to serious complications including stroke. Massage and trigger point therapies have an associated risk of bruising and/or release of emboli. Heat therapies may cause first and second-degree burns and/or hemorrhage. Risks associated with over-the-counter medications and prescription drugs are undesirable side effects such as liver damage and patient dependence. The risks inherent in surgery include adverse reaction to anesthesia, iatrogenic mishap, and an extended convalescent period. The risks associated with remaining untreated are the formation of adhesions and reduction of mobility depending on the severity.

I have read the above explanation of the chiropractic adjustment and related treatment. I have discussed it with my doctor and have had my questions answered to my satisfaction. By signing below, I state that I have weighed the risks involved in undergoing treatment and have myself decided that it is in my best interest (or said minor's interest) to undergo the treatment recommended. Having been informed of the risks, I hereby give my consent to Forever Young Chiropractic to perform the treatment and acknowledge that no guarantee as to the results that may be obtained from this treatment has been given to me.
